A MESSAGE FROM OUR CEO

Our programs are not just about giving presentations. They are about communicating with others in a compelling, engaging manner that results in a successful two-way communication. It's about you, and helping you to develop ways in which you can use your personality and your tools to communicate more meaningfully with those you engage with. We do not wish to change you. We want to help make you more effective.

As you embark on this journey of personal and professional development with us, I have two promises. One, we will provide practical techniques and strategies that you can begin putting into practice the moment you finish the program. Two, we will make sure you feel comfortable, and that you have some fun along the way.

On behalf of the team and I, I want to thank you for considering investing your time and trust in us.

MOLLY HUNT
CEO, TY BOYD INC.

EXCELLENCE IN SPEAKING INSTITUTE (ESI)

Course Description

Ty Boyd's signature program, the Excellence in Speaking Institute (ESI), has been delivered to professionals around the world for 45 years. ESI is a highly interactive and entertaining course where participants develop what is considered their most valuable skill, personal communications. This 2 ½ day small group program provides expert instruction with peer review and individual professional coaching to achieve the goal of helping each attendee to be the very best communicator they can be. Presentations are recorded and reviewed one-on-one with an executive faculty member for personalized learning.

Personal communications are at the core of whatever we want to get done. We present every day, sharing our ideas, plans, goals, products, services, processes, and visions. Being an impactful, engaging, and powerful communicator is the number one competitive advantage, whether presenting to one or one thousand, and is invaluable to your professional and personal life.

Experience our life-changing learning process:

- Immersive learning experience
- Optimized for maximum personal coaching
- Life-changing transformation in just 2 ½ days

Course deliverables:

- Skills, tips, and techniques to make participants the best they can be
- Enhanced self-confidence
- Learn to change fear into energy
- Become an effective storyteller
- Develop presentations that win business and get results

Resources provided:

- Recordings of your presentations
- Completed course workbook
- Ty Boyd's book of communication tips, techniques, and strategies

ESI is delivered in 2 ways:

I. Corporate In-House Programs

A company-specific course delivered to participants from a single company or organization. An In-House ESI program can be customized for your company, with classes built around employees from across the company, or team members from selected groups such as ESI for Leaders, ESI for Sales, or ESI for Customer Service. This allows class participants to focus on communicating within the context of what they do every day.

II. Open Enrollment

This ESI course is open to the public with participants from various companies and professions. Participants gain interesting and valuable insights from their peers from other walks of life and learn to communicate successfully with people from outside of their organizations. This is also a great opportunity for entrepreneurs and leaders of small businesses to expand their skill set.

ESI NEXT LEVEL

COURSE DURATION: 1 1/2 DAYS

Course Description

Excellence in Speaking® Next Level is a one-and-a-half-day virtual workshop that addresses both delivery and content. This training will not only elevate participant communications skills (and thus, your bottom line), but will also sustain and improve skills learned in ESI. Participants will be given a pre-work assignment and the first day includes two one-hour instructional sessions that reviews modules taught in our signature course ESI. In addition to review, our faculty will teach new material focusing on business presentation. All participants will receive a one-on-one coaching session, participate in multiple engaging exercises, and Q & A sessions.

Course deliverables:

- Reviews modules from ESI to “refresh” skills and keep sharp
- Speaks to communicating on virtual platforms (zoom, go-to-meeting, etc)
- Introduces new instruction focused on business presentation (both message & delivery)
- Includes a private one-on-one coaching session for each participant

ONLINE PRESENTATION EXCELLENCE

COURSE DURATION: 1 DAY

Course Description

Presenting virtually is now a regular part of our everyday lives, but it presents unique challenges for presenter and audience. In this course we guide you step by step through a preparation process designed to enable you to be technically prepared and to make genuine connections with your virtual audience. We offer personalized coaching about ways to take your online presentations to the next level. Rather than dreading your next online presentation, this course will allow you to see it as an opportunity to make a human connection with the people on the other side of the screen.

Course deliverables:

- Understand the checklist of technical requirements to successfully present online
- Learn ways to grab your remote audience's attention...and keep it
- Gain tactics to make online presentations interactive
- Make online presentations engaging
